DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-129 are pending and subject to an Election/Restriction requirement. Applicant elected Group IV with traverse and the species water miscible solvents.

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group IV in the reply filed on October 29, 2006 is acknowledged.

However, Applicant's election of the species water miscible solvents renders the response incomplete. Applicant's election of species was to be to a specific water miscible solvent, i.e. isopropanol, methanol, etc., a specific pH, i.e. 3, 2, etc. as it pertains to the elected group. This response is deemed to be inadvertent.

The requirement is still deemed appropriate and set forth again below:

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-87 drawn to a process for the enhanced recovery of recombinant insulin comprising, treating the expression broth/culture medium containing the expressing cells either with water miscible organic solvents and/or with Salts and/or with amino acids and/or at different pH conditions, wherein the concentration of the insulin in solution is higher, than had the expression broth or culture medium not been treated with the said conditions.

Group II, claim(s) 88-97 drawn to a process for the enhanced recovery of recombinantly expressed insulin into solution, comprising, treatment of the expression broth/culture medium containing the from about 10 percent to about 50 percent.

Group III, claim(s) 98-105 drawn to a process for the enhanced recovery of recombinantly expressed insulin into solution, comprising of sequential extraction of the expression broth/culture medium containing the expressing cells with at least two of following steps, but not necessarily in the same order: a) citrate buffer at about pH 2 to about pH 5 b) about 0.2 M to about 1.0 M sodium chloride at about pH 2 to about pH 5 c) about 10 percent to about 50 percent isopropanol at about pH 2 to about pH 5 d) about 1M to about 5M urea at about pH 2 e) about 1M to about 5M urea at about pH 4.

Group IV, claim(s) 106-129 drawn to a process for the isolation and purification of insulin from recombinant sources consisting of treatment of the expression broth/culture medium containing the expressing cells with water miscible organic solvent followed by chromatography in an expanded bed mode.

The inventions listed as Groups I-IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: They are not linked by a special technical feature.

An international and a nation stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of invention so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, make over the prior art.

An international or national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories: (1) a product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or (2) a product and a process of use of said product; or (3) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or (4) a process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or (5) a product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus of means specifically designed for carry out the said process. The inventions of Groups I-IV do not meet these criteria.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Specific amino acids, pH, water miscible organic solvent(s), salt concentrations, etc...

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. That is, Applicant is required to elect a single embodiment wherein all variable are particularly defined. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The following claim(s) are generic: nearly all claims are generic.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Pursuant to PCT Rule 13.2 and PCT Administrative Instructions, Annex B, Part I(f)(I)(B)(2), the species are not art-recognized equivalents.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
